BOARD BUYS BAYSHORE SITE BRISBANE PARK

Supervisors Pledge Balance In Land Acquisition Fund To Effect Purchase

Development of a county park at the Brisbane Lagoon, bordering Bayshore highway, was practically assured at a meeting, Tuesday of this week, when the Board of Supervisors pledged the balance in the county's land acquisition fund for the purchase at a price of $1000 an acre of 8.92 acres owned by the Crocker Estate. The land surrounds the lagoon at the entrance from the Bayshore highway to Brisbane. The balance for the purchase price for the acreage will be set up in the budget for the next fiscal year.

At this meeting the board also acquiesced in the suggestion of Supervisor James that it hold a special meeting before the date when the new budget is drawn, to consider the Butano Park Project, the Coyote Point Project and all other park and playground propositions submitted to the board previously.

The supervisors also adopted a resolution accepting the PWA grant of $108,000 for the courthouse annex, with the understanding that the work will start in ten weeks and be completed in seven months. The county will call bids.

ANNEX TO COURT HOUSE TO START IN NEAR FUTURE

"If the detailed plans and specifications are promptly approved by the PWA in Washington, and we can let the main contract in the next six weeks, I look for the annex to be completed and ready for occupancy by the fall of 1939," declared Supervisor Beer, Monday of this week.

He said the board would attempt to make provision for a press room in the new three-story structure which will house the supervisors and numerous county offices now spread over Redwood City. A WPA grant of $108,000 for construction was allocated earlier this week. The county will put up about $130,000 toward the erection, and furnish the annex. The county official also announced that ground breaking for the $233,000 annex to the front of the San Mateo County courthouse might take place within the next sixty days.

GRADUATE FROM CAL UNIVERSITY

Of the class of 5090 students, who received diplomas from the University of California in May, eight communities in San Mateo County were represented with a total of 51 graduates.

It was reported that 23 of the class members were from San Mateo, 17 from Burlingame, 4 from Redwood City, 3 from Menlo Park and one each from Atherton, San Bruno, Daly City and South San Francisco.

DON'T KNOW WHAT CAUSED RETURN

"I'm a sap, I guess. Don't know why I took it," was the message left by a person, who stole a 90-pound shrapnel shell in Astoria, Oregon, Wednesday of this week, and then later returned the warlike missile.

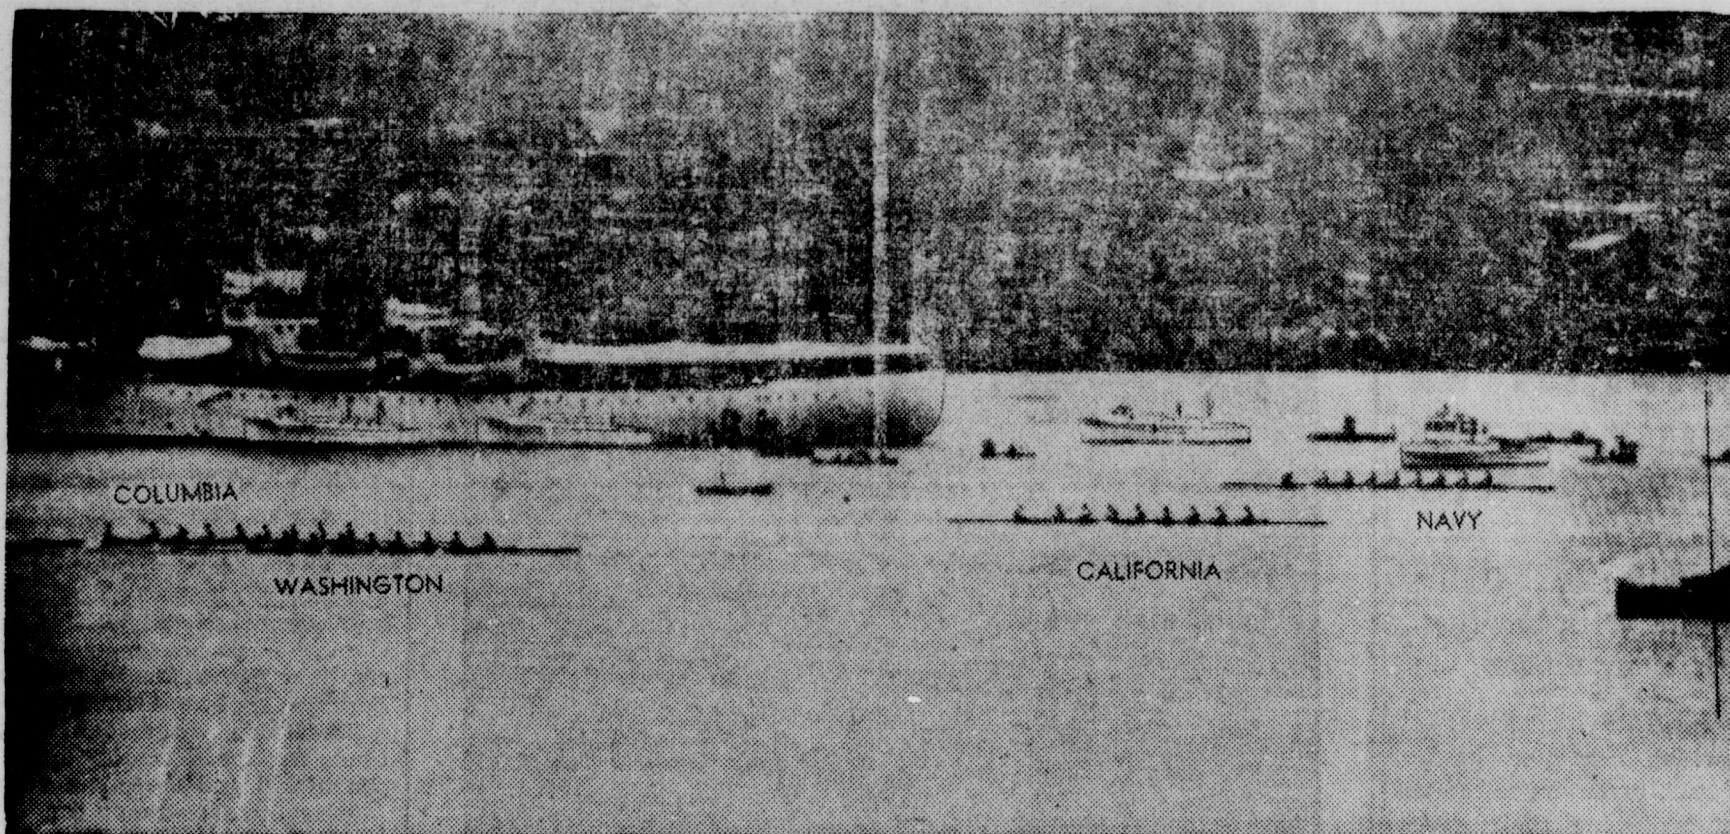

The incident was reported by military authorities, who no doubt are querying whether an honest to goodness change of heart or the weight of the projectile was the reason the man decided not to be a thief.

VANDERBILT DIES

The eldest of the Vanderbilt clan, Frederick William, aged 82, passed away at Hyde, New York, Wednesday of this week.

For many years Mr. Vanderbilt was prominent in the railroad field.

NAVY NOSES OUT CALIFORNIA TO WIN AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Nosing out California's Golden Bears to win the Poughkeepsie crew race, the Navy recently established a new varsity mark of 18 minutes 19 seconds against the record of 18:33 3-5 set by the Washington Huskies last year. Photo shows the thrilling finish as the Middies forged ahead of California to win, while Washington, in third place, overtook Columbia. In other events California won the freshman race, with Washington second. In the junior varsity Washington took the lead and California was second.

RETURNS FROM VACATION TO FIND MOTHER SUICIDE

San Bruno Woman Believed To Have Killed Herself Over Ill Health

When John Oldaker, 789 Elm avenue, San Bruno, returned home with his wife from a vacation up the Redwood highway, Wednesday of this week, he found his mother, Mrs. Inez Oldaker, 59, a suicide.

When Oldaker arrived at his home he decided to visit his mother at her home two blocks away. Walking in to call her, he found her dead on the living-room couch, her jugular vein slashed by a safety razor blade found on the floor. Beside her was a bottle of Chloroform.

The son could give no reason for his mother's action other than ill health. She left no notes nor had she ever hinted at thoughts of suicide, he declared.

Deputy Coroner Sil Nieri estimated that Mrs. Oldaker had been dead since Monday. As there were no lights in the house and as her bed was still made up, Nieri declared she must have taken her life during the daytime Monday.

Mrs. Oldaker had resided at 751 Linden avenue for the past year, since moving here from the East.

PRESIDENT ADDS SIGNATURE TO ANOTHER BILL

From Hyde Park word was received, Wednesday of this week, that President Roosevelt reluctantly approved the rivers and harbors flood control bill, which authorizes millions for large projects, but with no appropriations provided to carry them out.

No doubt the President's sanction would have been more amiable had money for the undertaking been actually allotted.

Conducts Special District Program

Mrs. Stella Jensen, first vice president and program director of Seventeenth District, conducted a special program conference, Thursday afternoon of this week, at 1 o'clock in the Burlingame Public Library, to assist Parent-Teacher unit presidents and program chairmen.

General themes for the year in line with the state and district theme, "Purposeful Growth — the Child's Right, the Adult's Responsibility," were outlined. Interesting and timely topics for each meeting will be discussed. All members interested in program planning were urged to attend this conference.

RETURNS FROM AUTO FERRIES TO QUIT AFTER JULY FOURTH OF JULY

A surprise move in the long competition controversy between auto ferries and the Golden Gate bridge occurred when the state railroad commission, Monday of this week, ordered complete suspension of automobile ferry service between Sausalito, effective July 28.

Passenger ferry service, however, will continue without interruption from the San Francisco Ferry Building to the Northwestern Pacific terminal at Sausalito.

The action taken was based on a decision that the San Francisco-Sausalito auto service constituted an "undue burden" on the Southern Pacific-Golden Gate ferry system.

STATEMENT BY MAYOR WARD ON DECISION TO RUN

Stresses Importance Of Ability To Harmonize And Co-Operate

In announcing his candidacy for supervisor from the Fifth District, Mayor Allen J. Ward of Burlingame issued this statement:

"A new man will be chosen as a member of the Board of Supervisors in the Fifth District.

"I submit my candidacy on my civic record for more than 12 years in San Mateo County. At present I am Mayor of Burlingame and have served two years on the city council.

"A member of any important board must be able to harmonize and co-operate and through experience give expression to his ideas and plans. If elected, I will continue as in the past to stand for economy, efficiency, progress, and safety."

South San Francisco Liquor Store Robbed

Entering the Rex Club, South San Francisco, Sunday morning of this week, two San Franciscans, Vic Flores, 29, and Erwin Good, 27, showed a janitor into a back room and raided the whiskey shelf, police said. The janitor got the license number of the car the two drove away in.

Officer Martin was notified and, when he spotted the license, gave chase. Flores was held in jail without bail while Good was released on $250 bail.

OLD ENOUGH ANYWAY!

Senility was the cause of the death of Pitian Badros of Lowell, Mass., Wednesday of this week.

About a week ago the aged man celebrated what he declared to be his one hundred and seventh birthday.

USE CAUTION ON FOURTH OF JULY

Let's be alive on the fifth! With this appeal, the National Safety Council is conducting a nation-wide campaign against accidents over the holiday and during the month of July. July is the worst month of the year for accidents. Last July, 10,200 persons were killed in accidents. This is more than two and one half times as many as were killed in the Revolutionary War. The three worst hazards over the holiday will be traffic, drownings, and fireworks. Be doubly careful on the highways! Take no chances in swimming! Leave fireworks to the men who are paid to take chances! Let's be doubly careful over the Fourth, so that we will all be alive and healthy on the Fifth.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

COURT DECIDES SECOND WILL IS NOT TO BE FILED

Contest Over Earlier Will Is Begun On Behalf Of One Of Gemur's Stepchildren

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt denied the petition for probate of the "alleged" second will of the late Joseph H. Gemur, wealthy Peninsula property owner, which Mrs. Clara Oeschger of Palo Alto, adopted daughter of Gemur, attempted to validate after his death in Oakland, May 7 last.

In court last week Mrs. Oeschger admitted that the alleged 1938 death bed will, supposed to have been signed by Gemur, March 6, at Peralta Hospital, Oakland, was fraudulently witnessed two days after Gemur's death by two Oakland physicians.

Whereupon Judge McNutt ordered a transcript of the case sent to Earl Warren, district attorney of Alameda County, for possible investigation.

Contest of the 1932 will was filed by Joseph J. Bullock, attorney for Mrs. Blanche Bonney Graham of Spokane, Wash., who was bequeathed $5 ni each of the two wills. Mrs. Graham is one of three stepchildren of Gemur.

The petition alleges that, when the February 1, 1932, will was drawn,

PWA IS ALL RIGHT

"PWA will take care of its end of the game, but to achieve the end of employment and construction the cities must act," said Secretary Ickes at Washington as he ladled out $51,509,478 more of public works funds, Monday of this week.

He called on cities and towns to speed up in getting projects under way.

WINNING OF THE OLD WEST TOLD BY EPIC DRAMA

Historical Pageant Written Around Lives Of Hardy Early Pioneers

A new story of the winning of the Old West was thrillingly presented by the Federal Theater players in the San Francisco premiere of the Talbot Jennings epic drama, "No More Frontier," at the Alcazar Theater, Monday night. "No More Frontier" is an exciting historical pageant written around the lives of four generations of hardy pioneer Americans. By modern standards those days were not so easy but this family, one of thousands who trekked westward, had what it needed. Indian massacres, blizzards, droughts and untold hardships were not enough to stop them. They kept on until they found what they wanted in the then wild country of Idaho. The play is a graphic story of the thousands who came into the West and founded a race of equally hardy but gradually—in these days—disappearing moderns.

"No More Frontier" is a drama of tremendous rugged power. It is an illuminating study of the pioneer spirit which later manifests itself in the third and fourth generations in a modern world. Besides its historical value there is a human appeal in the homely, genuine characters that strike a responsive chord in the audience.

"No More Frontier" reflects great credit on the government theater and should be seen by every patriotic American, particularly the youngsters.

ALL BY HERSELF FOR NINETY DAYS

The raiding of a Colma inn by federal and state agents consummated in the arrest and jailing of Lillian Moore, alias Lillian Boni, on a narcotics charge.

In Judge Cotton's court, Monday of this week, she was admitted to three years probation, providing she serve 90 days in the county jail. A stay of execution for five days was allowed the woman, providing her time for the arrangement of her affairs before her three months incarceration.

BLAME PICNICKERS FOR FIRE IN PARK

A four acre brush and grass fire raging in the vicinity of Oak Cove Park, on Crystal Springs Road, east of San Mateo, for nearly an hour drove away hundreds of Sunday picnickers.

Men and equipment from the Redwood City station of the county fire department extinguished the blaze, which had failed to accomplish any serious damage.

It is charged the blaze was started by some of the revelers.

CAR BURSTS INTO FLAMES AS TWO MACHINES CRASH

Youths Have Narrow Escape In South San Francisco Auto Accident

John Mainz, 19, suffered first degree burns of the face and first and second degree burns of the right arm when his new car was struck and caught fire, Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Police reported that Mainz was driving south on Cypress street at 4:30 o'clock when A. Mendoza, 40, 332 Railroad avenue, South San Francisco, turned in from California drive, catching Mainz's car with his right rear wheel, spinning it around and turning the car over on its left side.

As Mainz and his companion, Testo Tesi, 1849 Mason street, San Francisco, fought to climb through the right door, the car broke into flames.

Pushing Tesi out ahead of him, Mainz finally scrambled to safety. The car, a 1938 Plymouth, was a total loss, according to Fire Chief Alex Welte.

Tesi escaped unhurt. Mainz resides at 43 John street, San Francisco. He is employed by the Sunrise Brewery Co.

JANITOR DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Janitors are often beloved characters, whose presence as well as their services are greatly missed, when they retire or pass on.

Such was the case of John J. Maher, head janitor of the San Mateo Junior College. When students resume their classes in the fall they will truly mourn the loss of a genuine friend, for a heart attack, Monday of this week, ended his career of service.

Maher, who had served at the college since 1927 and, before that employed in the same capacity at Burlingame High School between 1924-27, was found dead at the bottom of the steps on the basement floor at 8 o'clock this morning by Thomas Roberts, furnace man and electrician.

Maher had returned to work this morning after a two weeks vacation. Roberts, who had spoken to him fifteen minutes earlier, found the body when he attempted to enter the side door of the school on San Mateo drive, found it locked and, peering in, noticed Maher's body slumped at the bottom of the steps.

The 55-year-old school employe was popular with students and teachers alike.

He is survived by a son, Thomas, and his widow, Mary.

BOYS AND GIRLS NOW GET BREAK

What a break for our boys and girls, for it was announced, Wednesday of this week, by S. A. Stimpson, district traffic manager for United Air Lines; John B. Walker, vice-president in charge of traffic for Transcontinental and Western Air Lines and C. A. Rheinstrom of American Air Line, that children between the ages of two and 12 years will travel half fare on all major airlines commencing tonight (Friday).

Youngsters over six may ride unaccompanied, while children under two will be allowed to ride free of charge.

SAN JOSE YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH

William Michaels, 25, of San Jose was instantly killed and his companion seriously injured, early Thursday morning of this week, when the machine in which they were driving toward San Jose failed to negotiate a turn on El Camino Real below Colma.

A South San Francisco ambulance conveyed the two to the Junipero Serra Hospital, where Michaels was pronounced dead by physicians. The other youth, Jack Armstrong, 25, also of San Jose, was given treatment for severe cuts and bruises.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

Thick gray fog rolled in from the sea over the weekend, putting this locality into a slumberous mood from which few emerged until Tuesday morning's bright sunshine coaxed residents outdoors to potter around in their gardens and to exchange greetings with neighbors. These gloom-smitten Saturdays and Sundays certainly do seem to discourage visitors to the region, and the coast resorts suffer in consequence. Here's hoping for better good fortune in the summer days ahead.

Mrs. Pat Dempsey is getting their house in order for the tenancy of Mr. J. Hollings, who plans to become a permanent resident of Pedro. Mr. Hollings is a retired farmer, a former lieutenant in the San Francisco Fire Department. His brother lives at Salada Beach, where he runs a gas station and cafe. Mrs. Dempsey drove down with Mr. Frank Muzio, employed with "Pat" at the Roddy place in the city. Mr. Muzio's father is a cousin of the celebrated opera singer, Mme. Claudia Muzio.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fenlon are making extensive alterations in their summer home on Stanley avenue, excavating a door-yard at the rear of the kitchen, in which work Frank, Jr. has exercised his muscle with commendable perseverance and success. The Fenlons are planning to build an extra room, to widen another, and to place their bathroom more conveniently, as well as to put some inner lining into the rest of the house.

A branch of the Brewers Union of San Francisco, drove down to the site of the old "Hermitage" last Sunday for a barbecue and picnic. It is reported that there was an attendance of fifteen hundred people. At any rate there were that many tickets sold. Eight hundred pounds of beef, thirty-five barrels of beer, and what amounted to an entire bakery, and half a dairy, for bread and butter, contributed to the feast, as well as all the edible trimmings of pie, cake, pickles, beans and hard-boiled eggs. A very enjoyable affair, this picnic proved to be, although the day was chilly and windy, all the participants accepting what the Almanac ordained with the true, optimistic spirit of the good sportsman. Briefly, the Brewers were out for a good time, and they had it.

Mrs. Tessie Rossini of Vallejo visited her sister Mrs. Grace Danman at Pedro, on Friday. She brought Mrs. Danman a huge bouquet of splendid crimson carnations from her own garden.

Jim and Gladys Stewart caught twenty-two fine salmon Tuesday. Salmon are running strong at present. Tuesday, by the way, was notable as having what is stated to be the lowest tide of the year.

Two neighbors on the Pedro hill are welcome to our coastside colony. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Berkal of Los Angeles have rented the house of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Strutz, who have gone to San Francisco to live. The Berkals have a little daughter, Nancy Jean. Mr. Berkal is associated with the San Francisco Call-Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Haugaard of Shelter Cove entertained sixteen guests at their beach home, on Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Ellen Dempsey fell as she was coming out of a movie theater, last week, injuring her back so severely that continued daily treatment is necessary for a cure. The accident happened in San Francisco.

A defective insulation on an electric light pole routed Fire Marshall George Olmo out in the deeps of last Monday night, to investigate the dimly flickering flame. The flaw was

MANY DEVICES ARE DISPLAYED BY INVENTORS

May Now Shift Gears Of The Automobile With Facility With Your Knees

At the annual National Inventors Congress, which convened in Los Angeles in 1937, inventors seized the opportunity to display their wares. Here are a few of them.

There's a device for shifting the gears in your car with your knee, instead of with foot or hand. There are ingenious canopies to be used with your trailer in such a way as to give you more space to dwell in and a greater degree of privacy when in camp. There are portable dressing-rooms for use at the beach or on the "movie" location. There is a patent telephone bell muffler. There is a 13 month calendar. There are the usual—or unusual—fruit and vegetable parers and peelers and juicers.

Civilization is certainly advancing, for there are several types of illuminated house numbers. One of them advertises, "How many times have you prowled around porches looking for a house number at night?" Doesn't that strike a responsive note in your experience?

There are devices that are claimed to make it easier and safer to get in and out of your bathtub. There is a portable dance floor that you can put down on the living room rug or out on the lawn; it can be had in many sizes, and is quickly put down and taken up. There is a visored head dress for milady to wear while she is having her hair dried after a shampoo. There are new kinds of fountain pens, and even a fountain brush. There are devices for mending silk stockings. There are tools to tickle the cockles of the mechanic's heart, including an automatic soldering iron.

There is a thing that makes it possible to boil an egg without the shell. There is a sewing box in which, it is claimed, the needles and the thread simply can't get tangled up. There is a gourd with a single string on which you can play a tune by turning a little crank on the end of the gourd. There is a world peace flag made up of many national flag designs.

There are persons whose business it is, if you have invented something, to tell you how you can develop it and market it. What won't these inventors think of next?

DEPUTY ENGINEER QUILTS

W. W. Hendricks, chief deputy engineer, submitted his resignation to Engineer U. S. Marshal at Redwood City, Monday of this week. Hendricks is a candidate for engineer at the August primaries.

reported to the P. G. & E. for prompt service.

Public demand increases that some safeguard be placed at the edges of that gap in the beach embankment over Pedro Creek. Within the past few days two nearaccidents at the same place showed the urgent necessity for definite action in this serious matter, which has already caused several former mishaps, by autos falling into the creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cubbon have a new dog, a thoroughbred of unusual intelligence.

Season's First Black Bass At Catalina

Art Engstrom, 9, was quite proud of the mackerel he caught at Santa Catalina Island until he saw the first black sea bass to be landed this season. The huge fish, weighing 273 pounds, was caught by Norman Brooks and took 37 minutes of skillful angling to bring it to gaff. Brooks landed the monster on regulation 24-thread Tuna Club tackle.

SMALL TOWN OWNS A FINE LIBRARY

On an inspection tour of the state, William P. Tucker, librarian of the state of Washington, gave a high rating to the library in the tiny village of Duvall, a town of fewer than 200 persons. He called it the best small town library he had visited. The citizens of Duvall secured this library by their own co-operative effort. Beginning in 1932 with $25 that had been raised by means of a basket social, an appointed committee bought a few second hand books and housed them in a shabby vacant building. Several women donated their services as librarians and janitors. In the following five years the people of the town raised enough money to buy materials for an attractive rustic building, which was erected by the federal government.

This building adorns the main street, where it provides a community center. It now houses 1500 well chosen books, and serves all persons who come to Duvall as their shopping center. It goes even further for some members of the library board carry packages of books to outlying churches and community clubs for distribution there.

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN NATION CAPITAL

New Jefferson Nickel Soon To Replace Familiar Buffalo Coin

(By Hart Goodrich)

The buffalo nickel was 25 years old in April, and, because it has reached this ripe old age, it can now be changed without an act of Congress. So the favorite old 5-cent piece is preparing to pass out of existence and make a place for the new Jefferson coin.

The first 5-cent pieces were coined in 1866, forty years after the death of Thomas Jefferson. In Jefferson's day 10-cent pieces were used, but no "nickels." The dime in circulation today was first coined in 1916 and in 1941 it will "come of age." Under the coinage law, a coin design must see 25 years of service before it may be changed, except by special act of Congress. So in about three years the dime can be redesigned. It would be much more appropriate to design a "Jefferson" dime than the present plans for the designing of a Jefferson nickel and Jefferson would feel much more at home on the coin more familiar to his day. We would still have our nickel, too, which, as far as design is concerned, is the most truly American coin we have.

The designer, James E. Fraser, said that his first object in designing the buffalo nickel was to produce a coin which was truly American and also one that could not be confused with currency of other countries. In his search for symbols he found no motif within the boundaries of the United States so distinctive as the American buffalo or bison.

Mr. Fraser felt that the great herds of bison which roamed the western plains had played an important role in "the winning of the West."

No particular Indian was used as a model for the head on the other side of the nickel. If the buffalo had been consulted, he, no doubt, would have objected to the Indian as his near companion on the 5-cent piece, as the Red Man was his worst enemy. It costs approximately $3.25 to produce 1000 buffalo nickels.

They are nice coins, just the right size and weight, and are never confused with other coins in our pocket. We're going to miss them!

The emblem of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers is symbolized by the oak tree, the trunk of which represents the national organization; the main branches, the state congresses; the small limbs, the districts and councils; the twigs, the local organizations; and the leaves, the individual members. Each in turn draws its life from the parent stem.

The Parent-Teacher emblem represents a definite pledge of service and protection to childhood. The wearing of this emblem indicates that you have a share in this service and the inspiration of being a part of the largest organization movement for child welfare in the world today.

The emblem is set forth in bold relief of gold against a background of blue. It is sold only to members.

OLYMPIAN HAS SECOND MONTANA WRECK IN WEEK

Dogged by misfortune, the Olympian, crack train of the Milwaukee Railroad, crashed into a CCC special train, killing one person and injuring seventeen others at Ingomar, Mont., a short distance from where the same flyer, only a week before, plunged through a rain flooded culvert, bringing death to forty-seven. Photo shows the second crash, with both locomotives badly damaged. One of the engines was thrown from the tracks down the embankment. Robert Eckert of Portageville, N. Y., a CCC worker, was killed.

BAYSHORE NEWS UNEMPLOYMENT IS REDUCED BY MINING ACTIVITY

Noble Wilson, an old timer of Bayshore City, left this week for a six months tour of the United States. Upon recovering from a recent illness he decided to make a tour of all his former stamping grounds. Going first to Chicago, then to West Virginia, Washington, D. C., Baltimore and New York, then home by way of Kentucky, Texas and through Los Angeles and back to Bayshore City. Noble is a former fire chief in Bayshore and a very civic minded citizen.

It seems that the fires have died out on the widening of Geneva avenue through Bayshore City. Seems that the county "big boys" can't see it just yet, so better put on a little more wood, Bayshore, and stir up the fire.

The union recently formed for the race tracks in San Mateo County is going right along. Baden Dog Track has been organized for this meet. All parkers there are now 100 per cent union, with work now going on to organize the inside men. Three cheers for Baden.

Harry Mosier of Acacia street is still trying to catch a striped bass, but he never brings one home; better change your bait, Harry, and use old socks.

Jess Monahan, former police officer of Bayshore, recently organized his own "all electric string band" with instruments made by himself, and, believe me, they are really good.

Cliff Edwards, well known fire eater of Bayshore, has been driving a truck for Longwell up in Butte City and has returned to town with a good sun tan. And how's Gertie, Cliff? I'll bet you broke her heart.

Leslie Parker turned in his resignation to the fire commission as chief and, so far, he has no successor. Sorry to lose you, Les. We appreciate your service and wish you lots of luck.

I see the Mardecich family is back from their vacation. How was it, Bill, did you have a good time?

Revival Of Operations In Boundary Country Proves Great Boon To Workers

On a recent visit to Vancouver Robert Forshaw of Grand Forks, in the long dormant Boundary country of British Columbia, spoke optimistically of the effect of renewed operations there on the unemployment situation.

The substance of the interview is as follows, as reported by the mining editor of the Vancouver Sun:

Small mine operations in the neighborhood of Grand Forks and Greenwood in the famous old Boundary country have, during the past year, been a big factor in reducing unemployment in the district.

Upward of 120 men are steadily employed at present at nine of the properties. Besides these, there are a number of small leasing and partnership operations that puts the monthly tonnage of the camps near the 400 ton mark.

"It isn't much when you remember the old days around Greenwood and Phoenix before the Rossland boom," Mr. Forshaw commented, "but every job counts these days and we are confident that mining up our way will continue to grow."

BEST IN YEARS

The Boundary country is one of B.C.'s earliest lode mining districts, and up until shortly before the war, when the Greenwood smelter was finally closed, produced millions of dollars worth of copper, silver and gold. Sources of ore were chiefly from the old Granby company's properties at Greenwood and Phoenix.

According to Mr. Forshaw, who has made the district his home for 30 odd years, this year will be the best it has known since the shut-down.

The largest operation today is that at the old Brooklyn-Stemwinder where W. E. MacArthur is employing about 40 men. Concentrates are being shipped regularly and in addition, some 50 tons of high-grade silver ore is being hand selected for shipment.

A program of extensive development which is expected to result in the installation of a mill, is being carried out at the old Providence property near Greenwood by Riegel brothers of Spokane, Mr. Forshaw states. About 30 men are on the job under the direction of A. White.

MINES CONSOLIDATED

Another 15 men are working at the Mabel mine, which is also standing up well under the present development work. Vancouver interests are in charge of the operation.

The City of Paris, near Grand Forks, is now making a small carload shipment of crude ore to the Trail smelter and is employing a small crew steadily.

The chief operation in the old camp is that of the Sally and Highland Bell mines which were consolidated and have been producing high-grade silver ore for several years.

The mine is controlled by the Highland-Bell Mines Limited and has been established on a dividend paying basis for some time.

But there are a score of smaller properties that have been revived

Quicksilver Puts Calif. In Front

One of the largest producers of quicksilver in the world today is a mine in California, the New Idria, situated about 75 miles south of Hollister and 45 miles east of King City. The only two mines which are believed to have surpassed it in output in the last six months of 1937 are both in Italy; they are the Idria mine (from which the New Idria takes its name) and the Monte Amiata.

The New Idria has been in operation for 84 years and stands sixth among the world's quicksilver mines in its yearly output. Surpassing it in total output are the two Italian mines named above, the famous Almaden mine in Spain, the long abandoned Huancavelica mine in Peru and the New Almaden mine near San Jose, which closed down a few years ago.

A Hiss in Time

An "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company once started to parade in a small New England town, when a big gander from a near-by farmyard waddled to the middle of the street and began to hiss.

One of the actors turned toward the fowl and exclaimed: "Don't be so quick to jump at conclusions. Wait till you see the show."

"I don't need none!" said the lady of the house before the agent had opened his mouth.

"How do you know?" he returned.

"I might be selling grammars."

KINDNESS PAYS EVEN TO ANIMALS

A naive festival was being held in Kandy, Ceylon, and a procession, in which were a number of gorgeously caparisoned elephants, was passing through the streets. An English woman was sitting on the veranda of a hotel and watching the gay scene. Suddenly one of the elephants left the procession, approached the veranda, raised his trunk and proceeded to rub the lady's face.

The keeper, thinking the animal had got out of control and meant to attack her, rushed forward; but the woman raised her hand to stop him and explained that the elephant had been employed on the estate where she had previously resided and was an old friend; and though that was over 20 years ago, and they had not met since, he had recognized her, and was showing in his own way his delight and affection.

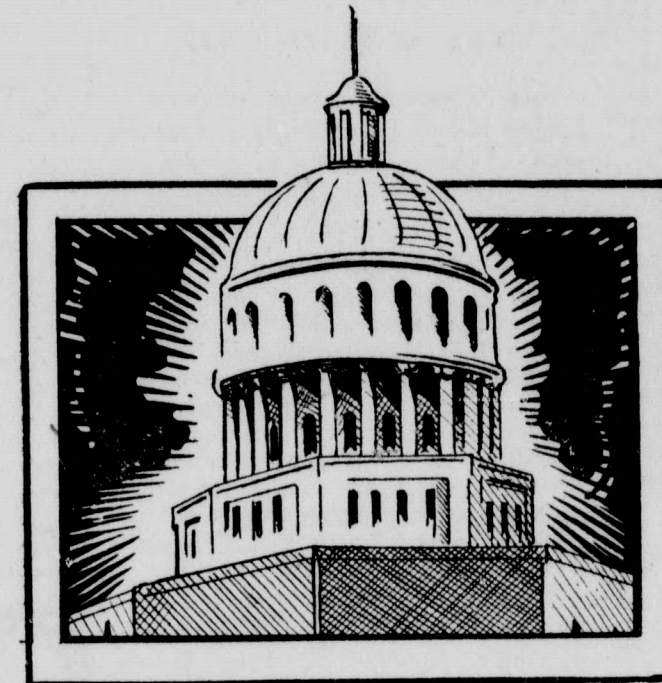

She then addressed her old friend by name and stroked him and talked to him for a few minutes in Singhalese; then she told him he must go back, which he obediently did, and again took his place among his companions.

The procession moved on and passed out of sight, but the happy memory of that brief incident, in which love, gratitude and obedience were so beautifully expressed in a faithful animal, will always remain.

The company was founded in 1818 and its officers are proud of the fact that since the date of its birth 120 millions of patrons have taken passage on its four steamers without the loss of even one life.

A FREE GOVERNMENT CANNOT PERISH AS LONG AS WE HAVE A Free Press

IN MANY PARTS of the world, democracy is in eclipse. Countries are moving away from free government, from responsible government based on the voluntary consent of the people. In each case the extinction of liberty is preceded by the extinction of a free press. Dictatorship cannot prevail while there survive free newspapers in which the people can voice and print their own opinions and through which every act and policy of the government can be observed, appraised and reported. It is an essential part of democracy that ALL opinions, whether right or wrong, be given a public hearing. Freedom of the press is our strongest guarantee that Americans shall remain a free people. On your newspaper depends your civic safety and the independence of your nation. Protect your newspaper—support it—for its welfare is your welfare—its freedom is your freedom.

When Mrs. Harry Cale of Wisconsin cared for an injured collier several years ago, she did better than she knew. The dog has twice saved the life of her little son, Robert; once by dragging him out of the way of an approaching automobile, and again by giving the alarm when the room in which the child was playing caught fire.

INDEPENDENCE DAY SPECIAL TO BE ON SATURDAY

Fastest Greyhounds For Many Seasons Now Running At Baden Track

July Fourth will be celebrated at Baden Kennel Club with a program of racing featuring the Independence Day Special. Leading greyhounds at the track are expected to be nominated for the big race.

The swiftest dogs in many seasons are running at Baden this year, Judge H. M. Barton disclosed. Baden, he said, is particularly proud of the fact that many of current champions have been developed at the meeting, a tribute to California trainers and breeders, and to the manner in which young dogs are given every consideration at the South San Francisco oval.

Champion of them all is a young dog owned by R. C. Davis of San Francisco. His name is Rural Rebel, and he has become a sensation in the sport.

Unheralded at the season's opening, the Davis dog, a son of Traffic Officer, has become the most consistent winner at the track. He won his first four starts, missed once, and won his sixth.

Five out of six is almost unequalled in Baden's six years of racing history. Five straight, a record which Rural Rebel missed by his one unplaced performance, is a mark never made at the South San Francisco track.

COURT DECIDES SECOND WILL IS NOT TO BE FILED

Gemur was of unsound mind and that Mrs. Oeschger, his confidential business advisor, used undue influence and took unfair advantage of his mental weakness.

This will left Gemur's real and personal property to Mrs. Oeschger, $5000 to his stepson, Charles H. Bonney of Wamsutta, Wyo., and Mrs. Graham.

Mrs. Oeschger admitted that she attempted to validate the 1938 will after his death only to learn that the 1932 will had left her more money.

Judge McNutt threw out the "deathbed" will after Henrietta Williams, a nurse who attended Gemur during his fatal illness, testified.

The nurse said she did not see Mrs. Oeschger hand the will to Gemur to sign, did not see the will or hear any discussion of the document.

Mrs. Graham received only $5 under terms of both the 1932 and 1938 wills and based her contest on the grounds of undue influence of Mrs. Oeschger over Gemur.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

"We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 3, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might" (Deut. 6: 4, 5).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, combine as one, — and are the Scriptural names for God. All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love" (p. 275).

Luther Moore, colored, was tried in court at Salem, N. J., for cutting the throat of Peter Asbury in a quarrel over the right answer to this puzzle: "If a 35 year old man marries a girl of fifteen, how long would it be before she is half as old as he is?"

SOCIALITE PILOT, CO-PILOT BAIL OUT IN AIR CRASH

Michael Casserly

Michael Casserly, socialite of Hillsborough, Cal., who, with his co-pilot, Aeronautical Engineer Harold Webb, leaped to safety after the right aileron and part of the wing tore away on the brand new plane they were flying over San Francisco Bay. Casserly landed in the water and was rescued immediately by a witness. Webb was not so lucky. He had figured he would land in the bay and on the way down had stripped all his clothes off in preparation for the swim. He paddled around for an hour and a quarter until he was sighted by a rescue plane. Both men were reported safe and sound after their experience.

SPIDER AIDS IN STUDY OF STARS

If you happened to see a man on a stretch of open country trying to entice a spider into a little box you would think him rather odd. Yet there are many people who spend their time on the Yorkshire commons, in England, looking for the Epeira Diademata—a spider marked with a cross on its back. Were you to ask why they do it, they would say it was because this particular specimen makes a silken thread which is needed for the production of surveying instruments and astronomical instruments.

Spider hunting is something of a labor. It requires keen eyes to detect the insects and patience to persuade them to walk into the boxes, for they must not be frightened. Furthermore the hunter must not give up his search until he has found between 80 and 100 spiders.

After carrying the boxes to the factory the spiders are let out and induced to make their threads. This is done by placing them on sticks about 3 feet above the ground and gently shaking them off. As they fall, the spiders leave silken threads be-

WANT TO NAME IT ANNIS MEMORIAL

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, at their last meeting approved the purchase of approximately eight acres of ground at the entrance to Brisbane, which property is to be converted into a public playground.

The county engineer's office has drawn plans and are to request a WPA project to do the work.

A petition to the county supervisors is being circulated by a number of the late Arthur Annis' friends asking that it be named the "Arthur Annis Memorial Playground."

All Brisbane residents who feel that this just honor should be bestowed to perpetuate the memory of the late Arthur Annis, are asked to please sign the petition.

For your convenience, a petitioner will make a house to house canvass in the near future.

Some Proverbial Congressional Wit

Congresswoman Nan Honeyman of Oregon has a nice wit. Recently she told of a woman who had read one of Einstein's books.

"Did you enjoy it?" she was asked.

"Yes, indeed," she replied.

"Did you understand it?" was the next question.

"Yes, I understood the words, but not the sentences."

Another of Mrs. Honeyman's stories had to do with the lady who said, "I believe in life insurance and fire insurance, but I do not believe in Social Security insurance. My social position is entirely secure."—Pasadena Post.

hind them which are collected for use in the factory. Having performed their good deed the spiders are then allowed to go free and are carefully taken back to their country homes.

In some cases the threads, which are often less than a 500th part of an inch in width, have to be made still finer. This delicate work is performed by an expert who splits them with a special needle in order to remove one or two of the strands.

Thus we see that the finest of silk threads, produced by a little insect, helps to connect the world with its stars!
